

It is inconceivable to me, a former Navy pilot whose career spanned Korea, the Cuban Crisis and Vietnam to see that the very citizen's rights and protection I fought for are being sacrificed in the name of security. To be possibly subject, without specified charge, to loss of my earned FAA certificates at the whim of an individual in the name of security is not only a disgrace to the concept of innocent until proven guilty but is an insult to every citizen who holds an FAA certificate.